Temperance Column
Edited by
THE W. C. T. U.

This in 1826 Lyman Beecher, in Connecticut, came out with those six great sermons on the temperance topic, the greatest blessing that up to that time had ever come from the pulpit in that country. Then followed the Washington movement, and the Good Templars, and the Rechabites, and the Dashways and the Templars of Temperance and various other organizations, and then the Crusades and the W.C.T.U., and one after another during the last quarter of the last century, more than forty different temperance societies came upon the stage, each and every one playing its part in the development of this great reform. The creation of public sentiment went on until the time had come not simply to build more sentiment, but in some way to crystallize the public sentiment that had been created, for there is a vast difference between the creation of public sentiment on a great moral issue and the application of that sentiment in a way that will bring results; between public sentiment represented by a citizenship that is willing that reforms be secured and public sentiment represented by a citizenship that demands the securing of reforms. One is passive; the other is active. One is almost worthless in moral warfare, the other is almost omnipotent. (Applause.)

Sentiment in Action Yonder in the Pacific Northwest within a few miles of the city of Seattle and the shores of Puget Sound a river known as the Snoqualmie has its rise in the largest glacier of the highest of the Cascade Mountains. It is named for one of the old Indian tribes of that section; and this river as it came from the glacier, sweeps over a ledge of granite in the foothills, forming a magnificent water fall 320 feet high. For long years the power of Snoqualmie Falls spent itself in mere display. Occasionally a traveller came through those dense forests of the foot-hills, heard the rumble of the falls came and looked upon its beauty and marvelled at its power; but with that exception it did not add one bit to human wealth or human progress. To-day the crystallization of the power of only a minor part of the power of Snoqualmie Falls operates hundreds of miles of electric lines, generates millions of electric lights in the streets and homes of Seattle and Tacoma and Everett and other cities on the American side of Puget Sound, and moreover, it turns every wheel of industry that is making there one of the world's great industrial and commercial centers. There is just one secret of the change that has been wrought. There is no more power in those falls than there was ten centuries ago, but it has been crystallized, it has been applied to the solution of great problems and those splendid results have come from that application.

So it has been with this great temperance reform movement here in your country and yonder in mine. For over a century yonder in the United States the public sentiment that has been created by the church spent itself largely in mere display; it did not bring results; it did not know the word victory. Men and women created to the cause of the church and the cause of temperance gave their lives as living sacrifices upon the altar of the temperance reform, and went out of life without seeing a single thing for their long lives of effort in the way of tangible results. But during all those years public sentiment was being created, and in those recent days, by the mere crystallization of that sentiment, the bringing of it to bear upon a specific point at a specific time, the liquor traffic is beginning to fall. That is the secret of the results of what is known today as the temperance reform wave that has been sweeping over the United States—the crystallization and the proper application of public sentiment that had been created by the church and the various temperance organizations.

As a result of the recent poisoning at Chester, about 1000 lbs. of meat were poisoned by drinking wood alcohol, permitted by the liquor license ordinance.

2—Dispensing poisonous drugs without proper labels, and failing to keep a record of same.
3—Practicing without a registracharges, and was fined $25 and costs

Moorefield Magistrate Says "The Days of Miracles Are Not Passed."

His cure seems a wonderful thing to his family and all his friends.

Mr. Henry Speers, the well-known J.P. of Moorefield, Ont., suffered for two years with Chronic Indigestion and Dyspepsia, which brought on a serious Heart Trouble. He wanted away with it but was nothing more than a skeleton. Two physicians gave him up to die.

Then his son made him try "Fruit-a-tives" and now Mr. Speers is entirely well. As he says "The days of miracles are not passed and I am convinced that 'Fruit-a-tives' will cure Stomach and Heart Trouble where doctors and everything else fail." CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Bradt wishes through the columns of The Times to thank her many kind friends for their assistance and sympathy during her sad bereavement.

FIRST EVIDENCE IS HEARD.

TUESDAY

The Royal Commission to investigate the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway held their first sitting at the legislative chamber, Edmonton, on Tuesday.

Witnesses are Judges Scott, Harvey and Beck. The secretary of the commission is Mr. A. D. Harris of Edmonton and their counsel, Messrs. W. L. Walsh, K. C., of Calgary and L. M. Johnstone, of Lethbridge.

The secretary read the royal warrant appointing the Commission and Judge Scott, as chairman, announced that the Commissioners were now ready to enter upon the enquiry. He asked for counsel present to state a person or interest they represented.

Mr. Bennett stated that he and Mr. Parlee were present to represent 16 urgent members of the legislature.

Mr. Robson, of Winnipeg, said he was present to watch the interests of the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway Co.

Mr. O. M. Biggar said he was there to guard the interests of the Attorney General.

Mr. P. J. Nolan, of Calgary said he was present to protect the interests of Premier Rutherford in the matter.

Mr. Norman McKenzie of Regina was there on behalf of Mr. Cornwall, M.P., whose vote on the resolution relating to the subject matter of this investigation had been protested in the House.

Mr. Walsh stated the position of himself and Mr. Johnstone, that as counsel for the Commission, it was their duty to be fair and impartial. They have no client, there are no charges against anyone and their duty is simply to inquire into the subject matter of which the Commission was appointed, not to force evidence, nor to hide it, but as far as possible get to the facts. He said they could not bear evidence until all documents connected with the matter have been produced.

Mr. Harvie, the secretary was sworn and produced several departmental files of letters and other documents which he said had been handed him by Judges Scott and Beck.

Judge Beck stated that these had been handed to them by Mr. Cowles, Clerk of the Legislative Assembly, in whose possession they were at the time of adjournment.

They were marked as exhibits and filed for the reference of the commission.

Premier Rutherford was the first witness called. He was questioned regarding the files produced from the departments, of which he is the chief and set forth that he had instructed his officials to produce them and he believed that they were complete. He said there were some letters regarding the signing of the bonds which were of a private character which had not been brought down. At the request of counsel for the Commission he had them brought in and filed also the original of a letter written by Hon. Mr. Cushing to him in October last, a copy of which was on the files.

Mr. M. J. Macleod, Deputy Treasurer, Mr. Trowbridge, Assistant Clerk of the Executive Council, Hon. Mr. Cross and Mr. J. K. Cornwall, M. P., were all called to give evidence regarding the production of documents.

Hon. Mr. Cross brought with him files of letters between himself and Mr. Minty and Mr. Clark which had not been produced in the assembly on the ground that they were private papers which he was not bound to produce. They were submitted to counsel for the Commission to sift from them what they considered irrelevant to the subject matter of inquiry.

Mr. Cornwall was asked to produce all papers he had relative to the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway, the Athabasca Railway and the Athabasca Construction Co. He said he had none regarding any of these matters except the Athabasca Railway, but what he has on that matter were in the custody of his counsel, Mr. McKenzie, who would produce them when desired.

All these witnesses were cross-examined briefly by Mr. Bennett as to the truth of their statements regarding production of documents.

Witnesses have been summoned from all over the province. Any individual connected with the deal will be brought to the stand. The chief officials who have been in any way prominently of the railway company, the heads of government departments, the superintendents of the local telephone offices, will be the first to appear and give evidence.

Some of our readers may be interested to know that beavers have been discovered at work in the Battle River, near Hardisty, quite recently. It is never very far from the fact that they are now that they are planning to construct a sewer and their work is of considerable interest to those who have not seen it.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

Service was held on Good Friday. Rev. W. Berry of Edmonton gave an address on the subject of "Christ Knocking at the Door."

Earlier services on Sunday were largely attended. The singing was very hearty. Mrs. Robinson took the solo in the anthem at the morning service and sang very sweetly. At the evening service Mr. John Gardiner sang Calvary in his usual fine manner.

Rev. Prof. Miller, teacher of Greek and Hebrew at Alberta College will preach next Sunday both morning and evening. Rev. A. R. Albridge goes to Central Church Calgary for Missionary service that day.

Mr. John Gardiner will be soloist again at the evening service again next Sunday.

Prof. Miller will be a guest at the home of M. and Mrs. E. T. Williamson over Sunday.

SOME EARLY SEEDING DONE

Some farmers in the district have taken advantage of the splendid weather that has prevailed for the past three weeks and completed the sowing of their spring wheat several days ago.

While in some instances this is the earliest planting in local records, it would appear that the farmers are not acting unwisely in committing the grain to the vagaries of a March thaw. The fields are spoken of as being in the best possible condition for seeding and hundreds of acres have been put in shape for planting at a later date. Little fear is entertained by the majority of experienced farmers that spring wheat will suffer any damage from the early sowing, although some who haven't a press of work are delaying operations with the drill for a few days. Winter wheat is reported to be looking splendid.

HIGHLAND PARK

It is our duty to record the demise of one of the brightest, young ladies in the district, in the person of Miss Ruth, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Norlund, at the age of 18 years and 1 month, which took place on Thursday last. Deceased has been ill since last fall with tuberculosis, and as she has been gradually sinking, the end was not unexpected. Deceased had always been a very cheerful girl, and was a popular favorite with all who knew her. The interment took place in the Highland Park Cemetery on Sunday last, a very large number of friends being present to pay their last respects to the departed. The service was conducted by Rev. Hoffman, in English and by Rev. Widen in the Swedish language. We join in extending the deepest sympathy to the bereaved parents and other relatives.
